FALL CLEAN UP

IN LOVING MEMORY

In Loving Memory of Theresa Maxine Kibby-Buckskin

*Born
August 12, 1953
Tollhouse, California*

*Returned to her Creator
September 4, 2021
Brookings, Oregon*

Theresa Buckskin, (68) who will always and forever be in our thoughts and hearts, went to be with her creator on September 4, 2021 in her home in Brookings, Oregon

She was born August 12, 1953, to Emil and Evelyn Buckskin in Tollhouse, California. She was later adopted by the Kibby family of Smith River, California, in 1957.

One of her most cherished experiences in life was learning to box. She had started boxing at the age of 10 (with her older brothers and sisters) and continued on throughout her early adult life. Theresa had the honor of receiving the name "Princess Red Star" by Sioux Chief White Buffalo Man. She was known as a "true pioneer to getting the sport off the ground" and she was also ranked #2 World Welterweight with the Women's Boxing Federation in 1977. One of her matches was recorded as the first nationally televised boxing match between women. Along with the sport of boxing, she also enjoyed playing basketball, softball and volleyball.

Later in life, she made a career working with the Tolowa Dee-ni' Nation. Being employed by the Tolowa Dee-ni' Nation for 20+ years was a start to new friendships within the office and the Tolowa community. She had started out as a receptionist and was promoted to being the Enrollment Specialist up until her passing. What she loved most about her job was the interaction she had with the members; she enjoyed talking to the elders and reminiscing about the good old days.

Over the years Theresa looked forward to family gatherings, whether it be weekend barbecues, birthdays, small road trips, and especially the holidays. Her eyes lit up when she would go out and support her Grandkids during their games of soccer, basketball and track. She was the loudest one cheering them on. They were the highlight of her life because she was their number one cheerleader.

She was known as being a warm, strong-hearted, generous, friendly, easy to talk to, stubborn, feisty, diehard loving Mother/Grandmother with a distinguished sense of humor and laugh that will live on in our memories. Her love has shaped us in lasting ways and she will be forever missed as she goes on her journey.

Theresa is survived by her three children: John Kibby, Lawanda Kibby-Haro (Daniel Haro) and Kyle Kibby of Brookings, Oregon. She was exhilarated and honored to become a Grandmother "Grammy" to Sonia Haro-Hernandez (Jose Hernandez), Rosa Haro (Tony Pacheco), Leonel Haro, Elias Haro, Danika Scott, Isabella Buckskin and Dekota Buckskin; Great Grandmother to Thiago and Enzo Hernandez-Haro.

She is also survived by sisters and a brother: Darlene Buckskin, Arlene Bunton and Ross Bunton and several nieces and nephews who knew her as "Aunt Wheezy". She was preceded in death by her parents, brothers Mike Perez and Roger Buckskin and sister Emily Buckskin-Leach.

A celebration of life was held from 2 to 6 pm on Saturday, September 18th at Lucky 7 Casino in Smith River, California.

What are El Niño and La Niña?

El Niño and La Niña are climate patterns in the Pacific Ocean that can affect weather worldwide.

Warmer or colder than average ocean temperatures in one part of the world can influence weather around the globe.

During normal conditions in the Pacific ocean, trade winds blow west along the equator, taking warm water from South America towards Asia. To replace that warm water, cold water rises from the depths — a process called upwelling. El Niño and La Niña are two opposing climate patterns that break these normal conditions. Scientists call these phenomena the El Niño-Southern Oscillation (ENSO) cycle. El Niño and La Niña can both have global impacts on weather, wildfires, ecosystems, and economies.

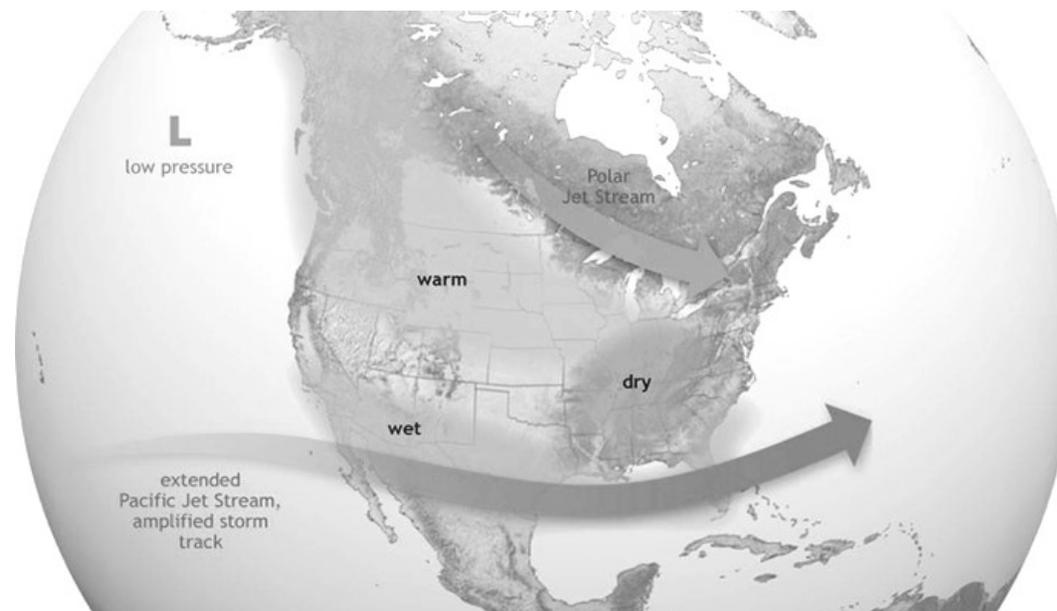

Episodes of El Niño and La Niña typically last nine to 12 months, but can sometimes last for years. El Niño and La Niña events occur every two to seven years, on average, but they don't occur on a regular schedule. Generally, El Niño occurs more frequently than La Niña.

El Niño

During El Niño, trade winds weaken. Warm water is pushed back east, toward the west coast of the Americas.

El Niño means Little Boy, or Christ Child in Spanish. South American fishermen first noticed periods of unusually warm water in the Pacific Ocean in the 1600s. The full name they used was El Niño de Navidad, because El Niño typically peaks around December.

El Niño can affect our weather significantly. The warmer waters cause the Pacific jet stream to move south of its neutral position. With this shift, areas in the northern U.S. and Canada are dryer and warmer than usual. But in the U.S. Gulf Coast and Southeast, these periods are wetter than usual and have increased flooding.

El Niño causes the Pacific jet stream to move south and spread further east. During winter, this leads to wetter conditions than usual in the Southern U.S. and warmer and drier conditions in the North.

El Niño also has a strong effect on marine life off the Pacific coast. During normal conditions, upwelling brings water from the depths to the surface; this water is cold and nutrient rich. During El Niño, upwelling weakens or stops altogether. Without the nutrients from the deep, there are fewer phytoplankton off the coast. This affects fish that eat phytoplankton and, in turn, affects everything that eats fish. The warmer waters can also bring tropical species, like yellowtail and albacore tuna, into areas that are normally too cold.

(NVN-NVST-'AA-TA) NATURAL RESOURCES

La Niña

La Niña means Little Girl in Spanish. La Niña is also sometimes called El Viejo, anti-El Niño, or simply "a cold event." La Niña has the opposite effect of El Niño. During La Niña events, trade winds are even stronger than usual, pushing more warm water toward Asia. Off the west coast of the Americas, upwelling increases, bringing cold, nutrient-rich water to the surface.

These cold waters in the Pacific push the jet stream northward. This tends to lead to drought in the southern U.S. and heavy rains and flooding in the Pacific Northwest and Canada. During a La Niña year, winter temperatures are warmer than normal in the South and cooler than normal in the North. La Niña can also lead to a more severe hurricane season.

La Niña causes the jet stream to move northward and to weaken over the eastern Pacific. During La Niña winters, the South sees warmer and drier conditions than usual. The North and Canada tend to be wetter and colder.

During La Niña, waters off the Pacific coast are colder and contain more nutrients than usual. This environment supports more marine life and attracts more cold-water species, like squid and salmon, to places like the California coast.

Attention Tribal Citizens and Community Members,

If you are a well owner in the Smith River Plain (Either on the North or South side of the Smith River located in an agricultural area) and would like your well water tested by the California Department of Pesticide Regulation. Please send your contact information (Name, Telephone number, Email Address) to Jennifer Jacobs in the Natural Resources Department (Jennifer.jacobs@tolowa.com).

The North Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board is coordinating with the California Department of Pesticide Regulation (CDPR) to sample wells in the Smith River Plain sometime between October and December of this year. They are putting together a list of potential well owners who would like to participate and have their well sampled. The list of analytes includes current and past use pesticides among others.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Throughout the world individuals in the intimacy of their homes innovate, improvise, and struggle daily to pass on endangered languages to their children. Elaina Albers of Northern California holds a tape recorder up to her womb so her baby can hear old songs in Karuk. The Baldwin family of Montana put labels all over their house marked with the Miami words for common objects and activities, to keep the vocabulary present and fresh. In Massachusetts, at the birth of their first daughter, Jesse Little Doe Baird and her husband convince the obstetrician and nurses to remain silent so that the first words their baby hears in this world are Wampanoag.

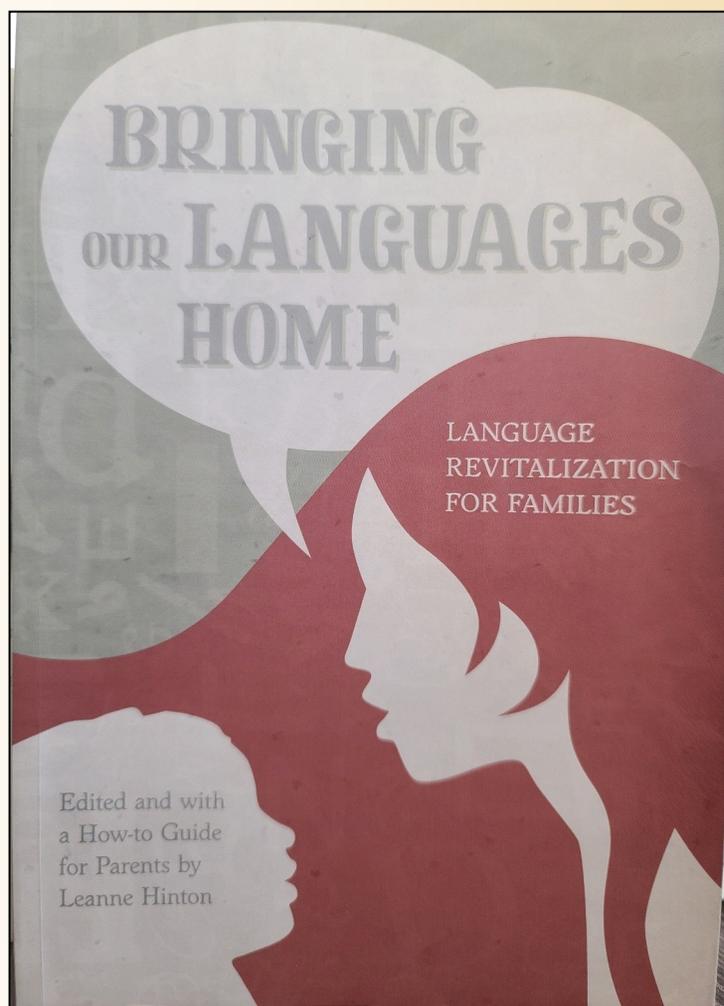

Thirteen autobiographical accounts of language revitalization, ranging from Irish Gaelic to Mohawk, Kawaiisu to Māori, are brought together by Leanne Hinton, professor emerita of linguistics at UC Berkeley, who for decades has been leading efforts to preserve the rich linguistic heritage of the world. Those seeking to save their language will find unique instruction in these pages; everyone who admires the human spirit will find abundant inspiration.

Da-laa-ha~. My name is Sheryl Suu-daa-chu Steinruck. I am from the villages of Nii~-lii~-chvn-dvn and T'uu-yaa~-sdvm-dvn, suburbs of Yaa~-taa-k'vt. I have lived at 'E'rs-k'aa-ni (Prayer Rock) also known as the See-waa-dvn Apartments for nearly nine years.

On September 13, 2021, I joined Ch'vski Jones-Scott as a Language Specialist I in the Education Department's Nuw-wee-ya' Xwii-t'ii-dvn hat Slhtii / Connecting the Language to Our Community Project, "Our Language" grant funded by the Bureau of Indian Affairs expected to receive a No Cost 12-month extension to November 2022.

Currently, we are in the initial planning phase to develop and implement the major project outcome to produce a comprehensive on-line Dee-ni' Wee-ya' (Tolowa Language) learning program with speaking, writing and listening lessons scaffolding the existing preschool and summer camp curricula and high school courses which, was the end-product of previous language grants including our precious archival recording collections. This is a very ambitious endeavor well worth the time, energy and resources that will be expended to insure this project's success: To preserve, perpetuate and maintain our Dee-ni' Wee-ya'.

Happy streaming for Dee-ni' Wee-ya' on our Website, YouTube and Instagram as the COVID-19 pandemic eases up!

HOWONQUET INDIAN CEMETERY

Dear Tribal Citizen, recently it was brought to the Nation's attention that under our current Cemetery Ordinance that the Nation is supposed to be charging modest fees to Tolowa descendants buried at Howonquet Indian Cemetery, as well as fees for the opening and closing of graves for anyone who is laid to rest in our cemetery. The Nation has not charged these fees since the ordinance was enacted. The Nation wants to hear from its citizens regarding the charging of these fees as well as any concerns that they may have with the current Cemetery Ordinance. Please direct your comments to Troy Ralstin, Executive Director, at executivedirector@tolowa.com. Thank you.
